Groundhog Sez 6 More Weeks Of Cold Weather

That little critter, the Groundhog, says it's gonna stay cold another six weeks. The grumpy animal crept from his lair only hours after bitter cold had swept into Alabama, bringing light snow and spitting icy to bridges and low-lying areas on Groundhog Day, February 2.

When he crept out of his winter home Tuesday he blinked at sunny, blue skies, shivered in high temperatures of 28 to 38 in North Alabama, and not much higher in this area, looked askance at his shadow, and crawled back in for another snooze.

If the Groundhog is an accurate weather forecaster, he predicted we're in for another six weeks of miserable wintery weather—he saw his shadow and back in his hole he ducked Tuesday.

Young Memorial Services To Be Held Thursday

Memorial services will be held for the late Mr. Wayland Young, at the regular meeting of the American Legion, Post No. 42 and the Ladies Auxiliary tonight, Thursday, February 4th.

Electric Co-ops Claim 106 Private Firms Overcharge

The National Rural Electric Cooperative Association - NRECA - said this week in Miami Beach, Florida, that 106 of the nation's biggest private power companies overcharged their customers by $3.4 billion in the seven-year period ended in 1962. It called on state regulatory agencies and legislatures for action to force rate reductions.

Several private power companies named in the report called the charges false and misleading and said the charges had been raised, and answered, several years ago.

The private companies stressed that their rates had been approved by public utility agencies. The report said the heaviest overcharge of $186.5 million was made by Commonwealth Edison of Illinois.

"Elimination of overcharges and effective regulation would stimulate industrial development and create new jobs," staff economist Ronnie Straw, who conducted the rate study, told the NRECA convention in a prepared speech.

"It would lower the cost of producing all goods. This in turn would have the effect of raising the income of almost everyone, particularly low-income families," Straw told the NRECA.

Straw represents nearly 1,000 cooperatives serving 20 million people, that the overcharge claims were based on what he called a widely accepted standard of a 6 per cent return on invested capital after deduction of costs. Rural electric cooperatives, locally owned, non-profit utilities often intruded and added by the government, have long been at odds with private power companies.

All figures used in the study, Straw said, were obtained from the Federal Power Commission through reports made by the companies themselves.

The latest figures available were for 1962. "The major reasons for these excessive rates of return," Straw's report said, "seems to stem from the ineffectiveness of regulatory bodies to enforce prescribed rates and to systematically scrutinize the earnings and accounts of private utilities."

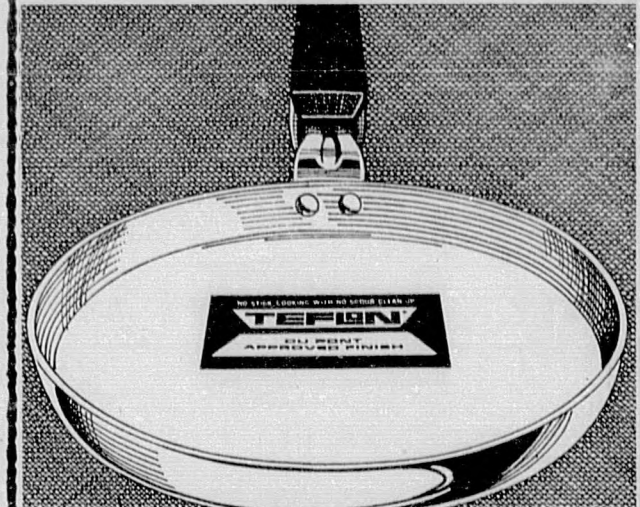

He added that regulatory agencies cannot be fully effective against the "highly paid band of lawyers, accountants and economists at the disposal of private power companies."

Straw cited a report by Ebasco Services, Inc., a consulting engineering firm retained by private power companies, that rate reductions in 1963 exceeded $50 million.

GOOD LAND PREPARATION is necessary for high peanut yields. That's what Coffee County peanut grower E. F. Henderson, right, is telling Assistant County Agent Pete Thompson. This land is being cut early and will be deep tilled later before peanuts are planted.

Farm NEWS

BY TOM CASADAY, CO. AGENT

Fire ants are building up again in Coffee County. The Griffin of the County Line Community and several other folks over the county report severe infestations. We have organized a county committee to buy a special bait which is effective in controlling fire ants. We hope to have this material available within 60 days.

There has been some debate as to the best time to apply insecticides to control fire ants. The following is a direct quote from Roy J. Ledbetter, our Extension Entomologist at Auburn University: "We recommend applying Mirex between the dates of April 1 and October 15. There has been some indication that this material applied from August 15 to October 15 has given better results. However, I think the results during the period of April 1 to November 1 would be just as effective."

If you have any questions about this, please contact the county agents office.

Reginia Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kirt Martin of the Keyline Community, is Coffee County's contestant in the annual Alabama Dairy Princess contest. Miss Martin is a senior at Enterprise High School and is eager to represent Coffee County in the princess contest which is to be held March 4-5 in Montgomery.

H. J. Harrell of Harrell Milling Company and other leaders in the poultry industry have organized a Wiregrass Poultry Producers Association. Frank Britz, Mr. Pleasant Community, was elected president of the group. Jack Harrell, Enterprise, was elected secretary-treasurer.

Guy Wesley, Al Britt, and Beth Britt, Mr. Pleasant 4-H'ers, are getting their calves ready for the big event the first Wednesday in April. There will be approximately 20 club calves offered for sale at the Enterprise Livestock Barn. This show and sale will be held at the same time as the annual spring sale of the Coffee County Cattlemen's Association. We hope you will make plans to support these club members by your presence at the show and sale.

Last year they changed the 2000 per acre club to 2500 pounds per acre club; thereby lowering the number of members. Six producers—G. E. Averett, W. J. Smith, Carl Goldwin, E. F. Henderson, Billy Hornsby, and Jim Frank Watley—are the Coffee County's members to this select group.

In 1965, Coffee County had 22 farmers to produce 2000 lbs. or more; but in 1964, 49 farmers produced this amount or more.

I understand that Loyd Hicks, Elba, Route Three, is still ginning cotton. He says that he has five or six more bales to go. Loyd, without a doubt, has ginned the first bale of 1965.

Walks in the landscape plan which are not being used are either in the wrong place or should be emphasized by bringing attention to them. A lamp post or a low evergreen planting can be used to put emphasis on unused walks.

When I went shopping for groceries several weeks ago before my wife came up from Alabama, I was not impressed with the price of each item until the cashier totaled and added tax. So it is with Government programs. We hear so many millions for this or that and the figures are meaningless in this time of money shortage.

It must be remembered that also not included in the President's budget will be the 1966 Supplemental Appropriations. In other words, as in the past you may expect Government bureaus and agencies to spend more money in Fiscal 1966 than they are given by the Congress. Then next year the Congress will be called on to pay the delinquent bills, in this way expenses come in the back door.

I voted not to send aid to Nasser and I will continue to vote against aid to any country that shows contempt for our policies and is unfriendly toward the American people abroad. It is my belief this will not only strengthen our foreign policy but with such action we will go a long way toward a real budget we can live within.

H. J. Harrell of Harrell Milling Company and other leaders in the poultry industry have organized a Wiregrass Poultry Producers Association. Frank Britton, Mt. Pleasant Community, was elected president of the group. Jack Harrell, Enterprise, was elected secretary-treasurer.

Brown Bryars, retiring president, has done an outstanding job during the year 1964. T. C. Whitman, Elba, is the new president. He stresses the need for the cooperation of all the cattlemen in the county. If you are not a member of the Cattlemen's Association, why not contact some member and pay your dues. We can all work to make 1965 the best year yet in the Coffee County Cattlemen's Association.

Guy Weesley, Al Britt, and Beth Britt, Mt. Pleasant 4-H'ers, are getting their calves ready for the big event the first Wednesday in April. There will be approximately 20 calves offered for sale at the Enterprise Livestock Barn. This show and sale will be held at the same time as the annual spring sale of the Coffee County Cattlemen's Association. We hope you will make plans to support these club members by your presence at the show and sale.

Last year they changed the 2000 per acre club to 2500 pounds per acre club; thereby lowering the number of members. Six producers—G. E. Averett, W. J. Smith, Carl Goodwin, E. F. Henderson, Billy Hornsby, and Jim Frank Waters—are Coffee County's members to this select group.

In 1965, Coffee County had 22 farmers to produce 2000 lbs. or more; but in 1964, 49 farmers produced this amount or more.

I understand that Loyd Hicks, Elba, Route Three, is still ginning cotton. He says that he has five or six more bales to go, says, without a doubt, has ginned the first bale of 1965.

Walks in the landscape plan which are not being used are either in the wrong place or should be emphasized by bringing attention to them. A lamp post or a low evergreen planting can be used to put emphasis on unused walks.

Farmer Of The Year To Be Honored At Banquet In April

Mr. and Mrs. John E. (Ben) Folmar and family were selected as one of the six outstanding farm families in the state of Alabama at the Annual Farmers Conference, at Tuskegee Institute, January 13, 1965.

They were interviewed by James I. Dawson, Vocational Agriculture Teacher at Mulberry Heights High School, Elba, Alabama.

Each year six farmers and their families are selected on the basis of their success in farming and are asked to be interviewed at the farmers conference. In his success story, Folmar told the group that he became interested in farming at the age of 10 when his mother gave him a brood sow. From that brood sow have come 87 acres of land, a modern home, with all modern conveniences, two tractors and equipment, three trucks, two peanut pickers, and a family car.

Folmar rents 150 acres of land in addition to that he owns. Last year he made 69 bales of cotton on 56 acres, 40 tons of peanuts on 60 acres and 75 tons of corn on 40 acres.

His pasture program consists of 45 acres of general permanent pasture and 36 acres of improved pasture, using bahia as his main pasture grass. He has six brood sows and eight brood cows, but plans to increase his livestock this year.

He is also in the pulp wood business, working at it during the slack farming season.

The Folmars have two children, John T. and Helen Sue Folmar, ages 10 and 16, respectively.

He is a member of Bethlehem Baptist Church, where he serves on the deacon board. He is also active in all community activities.

Folmar states that his future farming plans are to increase his land ownership, increase his livestock and improve his record keeping system. He will be honored as the farmer of the year at the Mulberry Heights High School Chapter of New Farmers of America Father-Son Banquet sometime in April.

The feed grain program for 1965 is basically the same as in 1964. It is voluntary and applies to corn, grain sorghum and barley.

Participating farmers may qualify for diverted-acre payments and price-support payments, and they will be eligible for price-support loans on their corn, grain sorghum and barley.

Mr. Ellis points out that signing up is a necessary first step in taking part in the feed grain program. The sign-up covers the period February 8 through March 20. It will be held at the ASOS County Office.

The key figures for estimating diverted acres and diversion payments are 20, 40, and 50, the Chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, reminded growers today.

The minimum diversion under the feed grain program is 20 percent of the feed grain base.

The maximum diversion is 50 percent of the base, or 25.0 acres whichever is larger.

No farmer may divert more than the base acres. And there are two diversion-payment rates.

If the grower signs up and diversifies only the minimum acreage, his diversion payment will be figured at the lower rate, one-fifth of the county's total price-support rate (price-support loan plus the price-support payment). If the grower diversifies between 20 and 40 percent of his base, the lower rate applies to the minimum diversion and the higher rate to the balance diverted.

The higher rate is one-half the county's total support rate. But if the grower signs up and actually diversifies at least 40 percent of the base, the entire acreage diverted, Farmers signing up in both the wheat and feed grain programs may divert either feed grains or wheat under the program's substitution plan, and in this case the diversion payments will be based on the actual crop reduced. Under this plan, any acreage credited to diversion from feed grains in excess of the signed intention would be paid for at the minimum rate.
